Financial Frequently Asked Questions

Q: I am completing my financial information. I confirmed that John Doe is in the RMTS website, but he is not appearing on my financial spreadsheet. Why?

A: John may be active in the RMTS website now, but he was not when the time study was generated months ago. In which case, his costs can't be claimed.

Q: I added a new staff person to the RMTS website on April 15th. I am entering financial information for the July-September quarter and this person is still not appearing. Why?

A: This is because there is no time study for the July-September quarter and the staff pool list certified for the April – June quarter is also used for the July-September quarter.

Q: Bob is listed on the financial spreadsheet, but left the district half-way through the quarter. Since he had a direct replacement (Frank), whose costs do I claim?

A: You may claim the costs for Bob up until the day he was replaced by Frank. After that day, you may claim the costs for Frank through the rest of the quarter. You may not claim both participant costs at the same time since they are only filling one position.

Q: I have someone on my staff pool list that has zero costs or is 100% federally funded, but when I enter zeros into the website I get an error. How do I proceed?

A: When you are entering zero costs for a job category, there is a checkbox that says “Federally funded/No costs to report”. You must check this box to proceed.
